

Virtual office

What is the Virtual office?

Grant Thornton's Virtual office is an innovative platform that completely changes the existing model of delivering our services to your business. It integrates the crucial tools necessary for smooth running of such business processes, as communication, document exchange, task management, financial and operational reporting, with advanced analytics and easy-to-understand visualization in one space.

We have designed the Virtual Office to make your collaboration with Grant Thornton's team significantly efficient and more comfortable. The platform is intended for executives and managers of Grant Thornton's partner organizations and decision-makers.

The main advantages of the Virtual office are real-time access to updated financial information and visualized reports in a cyber-secured environment, live-chat communication possibility with your service team, task management tool, document archiving and managing system, with ability to access from many different devices.
